Giuseppe Marinoni : FLA Learning Centre: 6 (EUROPEAN PRACTICE) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised FLA Learning Centre: 6 (EUROPEAN PRACTICE):

Built after Giuseppe Marinoni's design had won an international competition, the Learning Centre FLA (Lombardy Foundation for the Environment) at Seveso looks on the outside like a primary volume, divided up by vertical fissures and sectioned by the glass front: a wing of the square and proscenium opening onto the town. The rigorous elliptical layout of the plan is in fact a collage of irregular forms suited to a variety of uses: conference rooms, exhibition spaces, offices, a media library. The architectural conception exploits natural light as a means of creating mutable environmental qualities. The artificial lighting, on the other hand, draws attention to the spaces generated inside, visible outside at night as two-dimensional figures projected onto the glass screen of the façade.
