Writing Workshop for Older AdultsBy Jennifer ClancyI was quite impressed with this book; introducing writing to a group of older adults can be quite challenging! We used the idea of writing a postcard after we studied about Alexander Calder. Almost of their fear was eliminated because the postcard looked so small compared to a large piece of white paper!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy daliaExcellent book a great guide teachers.

Art and design students today face a wide range of writing tasks ndash; from reflective and self-promotional pieces to reviews, essays and dissertations. This book is an answer to art and design students and staff, disheartened by negative past experiences, who say that they loathe writing, and encourages different approaches to writing ndash; integrating it into studio practice, and promoting the notion of 'warm ups' preparations. This very practical volume, written for tutors and students, nurtures writing's creative role in the process of art and design. It uses short exercises and creative writing techniques combined with the energy and liveliness of the workshop situation to help with academic issues in writing assignments.

About the Author Pat Francis is a specialist writing and dyslexia tutor at the University for the Creative Arts in the United Kingdom.
